

Dr James Bellini

Dr Bellini is a leading futurologist and author. He has spent more than 25 years as a respected TV broadcaster, futures analyst and writer with a strong focus on social, economic and technological trends up to Horizon 2025.

After an early academic career, Dr Bellini joined the US-headquartered futurology 'think tank', The Hudson Institute as its first British member. He subsequently moved to the BBC to present The Money Programme, Newsnight and Panorama. For seven years he was a studio presenter with Financial Times Television and Sky News. Dr Bellini has won numerous awards including the Shell Cawston Prize, the Golden Nymph Prize, the Prince Rainier III Prize at the Monte Carlo International TV Festival and a UN award for the 12-part series The Nuclear Age.

Dr Bellini has a Masters in law and history from Cambridge and a PhD from the London School of Economics. In January 2007 he was elected Fellow of the World Innovation Foundation, founded by Nobel Laureate Glenn Theodore Seaborg.

