Epicor Signs New Partner in South Africa

IT Reseller Pros Software Forms ERP-Division, epic ERP, to Meet Market Demand for Manufacturing-Specific ERP Solutions

Epicor Software Corporation, a global provider of industry specific enterprise software to promote business growth, announced today that it has signed epic ERP as a new value-added-reseller in South Africa. epic ERP is the only Epicor reseller within sub-Saharan Africa to specialise in manufacturing.

epic ERP is an ICT company owned by South African Pros Software, along with three industry veterans. The division was formed to meet market demands for strong expertise in delivering enterprise resource planning (ERP) solutions.

The company is backed by a team of 33 professionals, and aims to innovate and add value to customers by offering three service areas: ERP solution advisory, full lifecycle ERP implementations and custom development.

Selecting any new business software solution or making modifications to existing applications is a big consideration. The ERP advisory division is headed up by an industry veteran, and the team uses an evaluation methodology that has been developed over twenty years of hands-on practical experience. epic ERP aims to help customers interpret their business needs and map that against the right solutions.

epic ERP has the ability to understand all facets of its customers' business, based on many years' of experience in successfully delivering operational solutions in South Africa and the international markets that its customers grow into. The team offers professional implementations that are aligned to well-understood business objectives and practices.

Finally, the team offers custom development solutions, with much experience in this field primarily through the use of Microsoft architecture and technology. With Epicor ERP being built on a service-oriented architecture that has been fully optimised for Microsoft® Windows® Server and Microsoft
