Epicor Appoints New Regional Vice President for Australia and New Zealand to Drive Growth

Senior ERP Executive to Lead Cloud-First Strategy for Epicor in ANZ Region

Epicor Software Corporation, a global provider of industry-specific enterprise software to promote business growth, today announced the appointment of Vince Randall as regional vice president for Epicor ANZ, effective immediately. In this role Randall will focus on growing Epicor enterprise software business, overseeing sales and operations in Australia and New Zealand, including the growing partner network. Randall will be based in the company's office in Sydney.

"Randall joins us from NetSuite where he held senior roles for over eight years, most recently as sales director ANZ," said Sabby Gill, executive vice president for Epicor International. "He brings a wealth of experience not only in enterprise software sales but also in cloud solutions. This is to our advantage as we continue working on transforming our organisation and realising our cloud-first strategy in the Asia Pacific region. The cloud strategy, and our determination to grow by focussing on helping our customers grow, is what attracted Randall to join Epicor."

"The ANZ market is demanding a combination of cloud and industry best practice. This is a key strength for Epicor and a reason why I'm excited about joining the company at such a transformational stage," said Randall. "In addition, Epicor has great people with the right skillset that understand how to partner with customers to help them grow their businesses. I'm looking forward to meeting every team member and understanding how we can continue to build on this competitive advantage. I'm confident that the ANZ team has the expertise and the experience to become even more successful."
